The Gospel tells us of master going on a journey. He is the image of Jesus, the Lord, who temporarily leaves this world to go back to His heavenly Father. But he will return at any time and demand an accounting from his servants. The servants are the people to whom God entrusted many blessings, each to his own capacity. God is so generous with His blessings; everybody receives abundant blessings from Him, despite their unworthiness. The distribution is not equal, but equitable. God respects the individual capacities and abilities. But more is expected of the one to whom more is given.
